INFORMATION: Student Enrollment, Fall 2011

BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

Preliminary data on UNCG’s Fall 2011 enrollment will be posted prior to and presented during the September 14 committee meeting. Total University enrollment is expected to be relatively flat, with the possibility of a very slight increase in undergraduate enrollment and a small decrease in graduate enrollment. The “Census” date for enrollment purposes is September 2, and therefore one should note that these assertions represent only tentative conclusions. Enrollments to date suggest that the initiative to improve the quality of UNCG’s undergraduate profile has been successful. The annual decline in the average SAT score appears to have been halted without a loss in Freshmen enrollment or ethnic minority representation. Specific data will be presented regarding our incoming class. We will also identify the institutions from which we gained transfer students, as well as the institutions to which we lost transfer students.
