Agenda for Today

• 90-Day Assessment
• The Role of the Human Resources Organization
• Restructuring the HR Organization
• Defining our Mission, Vision and Values
• Establishing our 3-Year Strategic Framework
• Developing Strategic Initiatives
• Measuring our Success
90-Day Assessment

To get to know US

To assess OUR STATE

To implement CHANGE
Observations

• One-size-fits-all talent practices not relevant
• Decentralized HR model causes conflicts
• Ineffectiveness on behalf of HR impacts the entire enterprise
• HR seldom adds value in terms of strategic management
• Compliance issues are at risk
• Departments lack opportunity to focus on core competencies
• HR only has capacity for transactions vs. strategic activities
Supporting UNCG’s Strategic Priorities and Achieving Student Success

Two critical ingredients:

1. Attract, recruit and hire every single time and on time the highest-quality, most talented and well-prepared faculty and leaders.

2. Ensure a system of practices, processes and relationships to effectively and consistently engage top talent.
Strategic vs. Operational

People, talent, and human capital need to be placed on strategic agendas and linked vertically to UNCG’s programs and linked horizontally across all the specific HR elements.

The Case for Change

Create a strategy, processes and culture to support talent management

Anticipate and respond to workforce and organizational changes

Manage legal, financial and organizational risk through compliance
Critical Success Factors

• Focus on continuous improvement, not radical HR transformations
• Get the basics right before pursuing strategic HR agenda
• Collaborate with other leaders when making in operational and strategic decisions
• Place the right people in the right jobs at the right time
• Assess talent in context with UNCG business strategy
• Move now to avoid losing momentum!
